"Chacha Chaudhary" is a comic strip series written by A. Q. can you take a picture with camera and use it in UIImageView with a button I need to take a picture, and use it in a imageView. The imageView is in a UINavigationController that is created from a navigation controller. I am not using a camera roll. I am taking the picture using this code: `captureImage = [self.view.window rootViewController]; captureImage.takePicture([self.view.window rootViewController.view], [self.view.window rootViewController]);` As I am creating my view controller from a navigation controller, I can not use this code to get the imageView: `UIImage *img = [UIImage imageWithData:[UIImagePNGRepresentation(imageView.image) PNG]]];` I am using swift. The takePicture method is not called, I tried to add a breakpoint but it does not get called. A: Set `imageView.image` after `takePicture: captureImage = [self.view.window rootViewController]; captureImage.takePicture([self.view.window rootViewController.view], [self.view.window rootViewController]); imageView.image = nil; //or any other image //now initialize the image with the just created photo UIImage *img = [UIImage imageWithData:[UIImagePNGRepresentation(imageView.image) PNG]]];` Photoaffinity labeling of light chain domains of IgM. An efficient method for the radiolabeling of IgM with photoreactive metabolites of [3H]azidobenzamide was developed and used to define light chain regions critical for binding of Fab-Fc. Photo-incorporation occurred at the N-terminus, but not the C-terminus of the light chain. Studies of photolabeling by anti-idiotypic antibody suggested that the first 40-51 amino acids of the light chain are not involved in binding of the Fab-Fc region. The carboxyl terminus of the light chain, between residues 52 and 60, was critical for binding the Fab-Fc of monoclonal antibody B1, but not of anti-idiotypic antibody 5A6.4. Is the UK d0c515b9f4

Q: Dynamic programming algorithm for recurrence $f(n) = 2f(n/2) + n$ Given the recurrence relation $f(n) = 2f(\frac{n}{2}) + n$, how do we go about writing a dynamic programming algorithm for calculating $f(n)$? I know that the solution for the $f(n)$ has to be split into 2 cases. n is even. n is odd. For case 1, the solution can be obtained in $O(1)$ using dynamic programming. For case 2, we can write the recursion in the following way: $f(0) = 0$, $f(1) = 1$. Now, the recursion is written as: if $n = 2^k$, $k \geq 0$, then $f(n) = 2^k(f(2^k)) + n = 2^{k+1} + 2^k + n = 2^{k+1} + 2^k + n - 2^k = f(n)$ if $n = 2^k + 2^j$, j
