A true alien fighter capsule comes to Earth, assisted by a small group of space adventurers. In the most remote corners of the universe, the descendants of ancient settlers and the descendants of alien races learn to meet and work together toward the common goal of survival. The Pathfinder is the newest and the most advanced alien fighter capsule, which has recently landed in the middle of Mongolia. After its arrival, the capsule set itself into a deep suborbital spiral descent toward a certain secret city. Meanwhile, on Earth, the mysterious legacy of the "Space Pilgrim" names the mysterious object as the new leader of the Earth's airspace. However, soon the new leader will face a shocking threat from a mysterious astronaut. Can the Pathfinder overcome the terrible evil, and will the Secret City of the 'Pilgrims' be freed? When a group of traveling magicians fear for their lives, they will jump off the nearest bridge, flying to wherever the magic takes them. Along with them, they carry with them a dead man's heart—the last of an ancient secret. Now, a young magician will face off against not only all the magicians of New York City, but also against a secret society who seeks to destroy magic forever. As his career as the future King of Magic begins, the young magician must face strange enemies, question the very existence of magic, and fight in a final battle, the outcome of which will decide the fate of the world.

Players start in orbit around the planet Isis, with ships and transports to gather an operation and siege the planet's meteoric outpost mines and mining facility. The player can choose to support a faction or to oppose all of them or none. Each chosen faction offers different perks and systems, most notably thier habilities (small bonuses). Which one one the player selects will in the long run define how the game unfolds.

And now we get a little deeper into the game (at least to me) the player can either play all the single-player missions or play them

The Flame stand out for their rich fighting style and their ability to use the environment around them for their advantage. The Flame resembles the Tyrant in size but has a more positive representation, with a long blue-black hair and a large yellow outfit. They have the ability to use fire as their primary attack, transforming into a giant fireball at the cost of life, and can be reborn from the ashes in a fire. They also have the ability to put in place a wall of fire, but in this case they lose health. The Flame, despite their large size and strength, present slow movement and high defense. The main attack of this boss is the fire ball, which in this case is very powerful. They can use a fire staff for their attacks, and also transform into fire balls and super fire balls after the attack. Furi players can also fight the Flame on coop, as they can use the fire balls without the need of using the flame staff. release name: Old Evil

Game Description:

Old evil is sadistic remake of old syndicate and with old evil you will have to torture the commander, the doctor, and the priest. The doctor and the priest must drink the coffee, only when you are not in action. The commander decides if you will take a shower or not. If you want more, you have to torture them even more and solve the game a little harder.

Back-Story:

Old evil was a real close white nose attack group that entered a chemical plant in 1973 and ran out with very expensive drugs. The enemies were looking for a solution to stop this but the solution was self-destruction; an alliance between 13 companies was founded to control and trade the drug with the rest of the chemical-industrial syndicate. The technology they created, called Dystroball, allowed for efficient and quick reproduction and the scene was the beginning of the rest of the world. When Dystroball was released on the market, product super-producers and power companies must have expected it to revolutionize life as they had known it. Instead the world turned to an unprecedented recycling and ecological problem, every single month of life, there are 1.5+ billions tons of waste being generated. In this context Dystroball became a nightmare for the earth's ecosystem, for the planet's resources, and for
