There is a problem with the latest version of the KMS online server. If you run the software it will now ask for your MSDN
username/password

and you will get "A duplicate activation error occurred. This activation server has already been activated. If you have already set up a product's activation in the previous version of Office or KMSpico is a professional and easy to use tool to activate Microsoft Office or Windows using KMS server. Furthermore, KMSpico supports the latest versions of Office 2013, Office 365,

Windows 8, 8.1 To avoid this type of problems, the activation system assumes that a special machine known as the KMS Host is used to register the activation key of each PC and to activate the activated Windows. New Windows Server 2012 and Windows 8 and Windows Server 2012

R2 can be activated from KMS Host before using the KMS Host key.
But, what happens when you install or upgrade a Windows version other than Windows Server 2012? After you install the Volume Activation Service Role, you can do the same task just like KMS Host by using the Host Console as the Point of Contact. You can use the Host Console to generate the Host key and register or replace the KMS key of the PC. After the PC is ready for activation, you can activate the activated Windows by using the Host Console.

This process is more convenient to control the activation of a Windows version other than Windows Server 2012 or Windows 8. After the Host Console is installed, the Server Manager is modified to include KMS Host section. In addition, you can confirm the Host Console is activated by right-clicking the Host Console icon on the desktop. 5ec8ef588b
