MOBZRuler is a .NET application designed to be a quick and simple application that can be used for many tasks. The major focus is to work with Microsoft's zoom function, or to be more specific the Windows magnify effect. However the application is much more than this. It has a lot of great features like a grid overlay and other features that will help you line up elements. MOBZRuler is a great way to visualize your work as a human can with a magnify function.

MOBZRuler Screenshots: ScoreKeeper is a .NET application designed for any .NET developer or anyone else that uses scorekeepers. Scorekeepers are a practice that exists to get the most out of your scorekeeper, and it is as useful for chess players as it is for pool players. Your goal when using a scorekeeper is to keep track of your scores over an extended period of time, especially if you play a game. ScoreKeeper offers a variety of scorekeeper types including a more traditional paper record scorekeeper and a real time scorekeeper. A real time scorekeeper allows you to use the same scorekeeper for multiple different games without having to print a new scorekeeper for every game. ScoreKeeper is unique in that it offers the ability to store notes, and also store game history. A paper record scorekeeper and real time scorekeeper will only allow you to store notes, and they will only store the information of the current game that is in progress. On the other hand the real time scorekeeper will store game history for as many games that are in progress. A real time scorekeeper is the only scorekeeper on the market that will store game history. ScoreKeeper offers a flexible scorekeeper that will allow you to easily use it for many different games, and in many different settings. ScoreKeeper is a unique real time scorekeeper, as it allows you to update your scorekeeper at any time, and not just at the end of a game.
